Rain is liquid water in the form of droplets that have condensed from atmospheric water vapor and then become heavy enough to fall under gravity. Rain is a major component of the water cycle and is responsible for depositing most of the fresh water on the Earth. It provides suitable conditions for many types of ecosystems, as well as water for hydroelectric power plants and crop irrigation.

FORCES . A force is any push or pull that causes an object to move, stop, or change speed or direction.; The greater the force, the greater the change in motion will be. The more massive an object, the less effect a given force will have on the object.; Unless acted on by a force, objects in motion tend to stay in motion and objects at rest remain at rest.
